

DAILY EXAMINER

J. W. DOWNS, Editor and Proprietor

WACO, TUESDAY, MARCH 24.

The National Quarantine bill does not meet with much favor in Congress.

John B. Gough, the renowned temperance lecturer, is opposed to the women's movement against the saloons.

They have a newspaper at Plano, and the people straightway vote the village a city.

The Dallas Herald warmly supports Gov. Coke's message on the question of the amendments to the Constitution.

The Age looks horns with both the Galveston papers, and one would think the Age doubts the Democracy of the News.

A Cincinnati paper, the Times, speaks in terms of the highest commendation of Miss Nettie Power Houston's late poem, "A Woman's Love Dream."

The Statesman, of the 29th, takes strong grounds in favor of the reimbursement of the citizens of our frontier, by the general government, for losses sustained in consequence of the raids upon her settlements by hostile Indians.

The Galveston Civilian says the name of Mr. Hammond, the revivalist now in that city, will be spoken oftener in the next ten days than any other. Yes; to be sure, not excepting that of Jesus, of Nazareth.

The International Railroad bond question is now the absorbing interest in the Legislature. The substitute of Senator Dillard, granting land in lieu of bonds, was voted down on the 20th.

The Jamaica Gleaner says Her Majesty's government has ordered an examination into the case of the victims of the Virginias, of English birth, and restitution or compensation is to be demanded from the Spanish Government. Small satisfaction we should think, to the friends of the murdered.

The Sherman Register ably reviews Gov. Coke's administration, and sums up his article in the following clear and just conclusions:

"This we have written as an act of simple justice to an able and conscientious chief magistrate who is doing his duty faithfully and well by the people. Right nobly is Gov. Coke redeeming the pledge which he so impressively made the people in his memorable speeches in the late canvass; that if elected no ring, clique, or set of men should own, run or control him; that he would be the Governor of the people of Texas without distinction of party; and that his sole aim and end would be to promote the peace, happiness, prosperity and glory of Texas."

This sort of testimony should be a highly prized compliment, by the able, fearless and fair minded man, who today calmly guides Texas out of the labyrinth of debt, dishonor and trouble, into which she had been plunged by an irresponsible, dishonest and corrupt administration.

A Texas commercial traveler, who hangs out at Pilot Point, recently made a pass at a Chicago hardware house, and we give below the elegant response:

CHICAGO, Feb. 28, 1864.
M. A. Porter, Pilot Point, Denton county, Texas: Have yours of the 20th. Cannot use you. Dare not send a man to Texas, because 'tis only one day from Texas to the d-d.

Dare not send goods there before they are paid for. Should like to sell Texas for cash—spot cash. Yours truly, HIBBARD, SPENCER & CO.

A News special gives us the following synopsis of the International Railroad bill now before the Legislature:

"The International Railroad bill, as engrossed by the Senate, by a vote of 18 to 10, provides for bonds from Jefferson to San Antonio, not over 370 miles, and the bonds not to be issued till the final decision of the court declaring them to be binding on the State. All the restrictions and other conditions of the original charter remain in full force. It is expected that the bill will have the same vote on its final passage to-morrow. Judge Ireland voted for the bill. It is generally believed that the bill will pass the House nearly in its present shape, and be approved by the Governor.

It is said that another bill will be immediately introduced, providing that the balance of the road from San Antonio to the Rio Grande will be built as provided in the original charter, without any change in the charter, except the subsidy of twenty sections of land per mile shall be granted instead of bonds."

FROM THE LEGISLATURE

The proceedings in the Legislature on the 21st (Saturday) were of a somewhat interesting character. We have only space to present a brief synopsis of the most important bills offered.

IN THE SENATE.—A petition by Mr. Erath asking the passage of the Public Weigher Bill, as originally introduced; also, a petition by Mr. Trolinger from the citizens of Grayson county, asking the same thing.

Mr. Westfall, a motion to call up House Bill, entitled an act to ascertain the amount due teachers of Public Schools prior to July, 1873, and providing for the payment of the same. The rules were suspended and the bill passed.

Mr. Baker, an act exempting the wages of laborers from Garnishment.

Mr. Swift, presenting articles of address against Hon. Wm. Chambers, Judge of the First District.

IN THE HOUSE.—Mr. Stephens, an act incorporating the Midland Railroad Company, and to aid in its construction.

Mr. DeMorse, an act requiring that all laws, so soon as passed, shall be published in two papers in each Senatorial District for three successive weeks in the weekly issue; and that the Secretary of State shall cause this to be done.

The object is that the people may become acquainted with the nature of all laws as soon as passed, which the publication in a limited form, after the Legislature adjourns, does not permit.

The bill offered by DeMorse, the gist of which we give above, is, to our mind, one of the most practical importance to the people. But we are of the opinion that the object would have been better subserved were the laws printed in every newspaper in the State. The people are the parties most interested, and Texas has a population proverbial for its extensive patronage of newspapers, and equally so for the extensive reading they give them.

In this view of it, no means can be taken that would insure the greater publicity of the laws, than the one proposed by DeMorse. We hope it will become a law.

The News, of the 21st, makes the amende honorable to our friend Jack Elgin as follows:

Colonel John E. Elgin, of the firm of Speight & Elgin, Waco, writes to the News that he has received several letters asking about his arrest for murder. We are happy to inform all such that John E. is not the man. This was stated in the original account of the referred to affair. The party arrested is William Elgin, and is in no way connected with the gentleman first named, who says he may be arrested for getting shot in the back, but not for shooting anybody else.

[SPECIAL TO WACO DAILY EXAMINER.]

WASHINGTON, March 23.—President Grant, in conversation, yesterday, with a leading Western Republican Senator, said the statement in a Washington special dispatch to a New York paper, published Saturday morning, that any legislation tending to inflation must run the gauntlet of his veto, was wholly without foundation; that he had discussed with no one that subject, and if he were himself a member of Congress he should regard an intimation of a veto in advance of legislation as an unbecoming threat by the Executive, and should resent it.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Jas. Booth fell under the cars at Virginia City, Nevada, to-day, having both legs cut off.

A young man witnessing the accident fainted, and his hair, which was black, turned grey. Probably neither will survive.

LONDON, March 23.—A special to the Standard, dated Santandee, Sunday, says: The first move of the government troops for the relief Bellas, by way of Billoro river, was a failure. It was found impossible to effect a landing, and the expedition returned to Santandee.

A dispatch to your reporters says the explosion of ammunition in Serrano's camp, killing and wounding fifty men.

BATONNE, March 23.—The wife of Don Carlos has been delivered of a daughter.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—New Orleans mails, of the 19th, have been received.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.—Nearly a half million fire. It originated in the Exchange block, on Pennsylvania street. It was the work of an incendiary.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The freight handlers at Long Dock refuse the terms of the Erie Company. The Company has employed five hundred others, who will come to the Dock by water. Seventy-five policemen have been detailed to protect them. It is said there are $3,000,000 worth of freight now awaiting shipment at Long Dock. The Company also suffers a heavy loss from the inability to receive freight.

LIVERPOOL, March 23.—Noon—Cotton buoyant; Uplands 8 1/2; Orleans 8 1/2 @ 8 3/4.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Cotton quiet; Uplands 10 1/2; Orleans 17 1/2. Gold closed at 111 1/2.

GALVESTON, March 21.—Cotton steady; Good Ordinary 13 1/2. Middlings 16 1/2. Gold 111 1/2.

Mrs. Chief Justice Waite has not accompanied her husband, as her toilette could not be got ready in a hurry. And this in a land of republican simplicity, where courts of the judiciary are supposed, by the far away people of the West, to be unknown.

The Great Red River Mail.

It is thought that about $2,000 per annum will be necessary to keep the Red River clear of the great raft recently removed above Shreveport. It is a fairly extended thirty-five miles and its foot was forty-five miles above Shreveport. Its removal exhausted an appropriation made by Congress of $25,000, but a good channel was opened all the way through, and boats have recently passed up and down without trouble. The work of removal occupied about two years.

At first gunpowder dynamite and other explosives were tried with poor results, but finally nitro-glycerine was used and the work proceeded easy enough. Two steamers and five saw boats, the latter with steam saws, were also used. One of the boats, Aid, formerly a tug boat, cost $20,000. An electric battery was used with the nitro, and no accident ever happened as all boats kept clear whenever there was an explosion, and, in fact, no one cared to go with it. Once a two pound can of the stuff was put under a log and as a man on the other end was about to jump into a skiff, it went off sending the log and man high in the air. The man fell into thirty feet of water, touched bottom, and rose to the surface unhurt. About 2000 pounds of nitro were used in the raft, and it cost $2 per pound. The following is a scientific account of this explosive according to an expert:

Tri-nitro-glycerine, as it is called, at the ordinary temperature, in a transparent, colorless, odorless, heavy liquid, refracting powerfully—sharp, aromatic taste, producing headache when placed upon the tongue. Its specific gravity is 1.66 or six-tenths heavier than water. At 45 degrees F. it congeals or crystallizes in beautiful six sided prisms.

When congealed it is absolutely non-explosive but if a drop of the liquid be placed upon an anvil and struck with a hammer a sharp detonation ensues. Crystallized, its specific gravity is about five per cent. greater than when liquid.

A South African company want to sell their diamond mine for half a billion dollars. Well, let them begin operations on Congress; by shipping them a cargo of shirt-tails.

Sir Francis Petitt Smith, the inventor of the screw method of propelling ships, died at his residence, at South Kensington, last week, and was interred privately at Brompton cemetery. For his personal services to the navy, Her Majesty, in 1855, on the recommendation of Lord Palmerston, granted to Mr. Smith an annual pension from the civil list of £200, and in 1871 conferred upon him the honor of Knighthood. For thirteen years prior to his death, Sir Francis held the post of Curator of the Patent Office Museum, South Kensington.

It is related of the late Senator Wigfall that on the collapse of the Confederacy, while crossing the Mississippi to make his way into Mexico, in the assumed character of an ultra Union man, he—formed by a Federal soldier, who was on board the ferry-boat, of the intense satisfaction he would experience if he could fall in with and hang to the topmost limb of the tallest tree in the Texas archipelago. "Yes, I too would be pulling at one end of the rope," vehemently replied Wigfall.

Poor Tweed! He thought of him as we beheld the throng about the luxurious Metropolitan Hotel the other day, when the body of Commissioner Smith was taken to the City Hall, and heard a by-stander remark on his appearance last week at Blackwell's Island. His head is shaven, his form attenuated, his countenance sad. His departed friend, Mr. Smith, visited him every Sunday, and his son goes every morning to the island to take the morning papers and comforts to relieve his dreary life.—N. Y. Sun.

Two Irishmen, traveling together, were out of money and wanting a drink of whiskey, devised the following ways and means: Patrick, catching a frog out of a brook, went ahead and asked at the very first inn he came to, what sort of a creature it was. "Why, it is a frog," said the landlady. "Begorra, me dear sir," said Pat, "it be a mouse." "It is a frog," said the landlady. "And sure it is a mouse, and for the truth of it, we will be after leaving it to the first traveler that comes to it to decide it, for a pot of whiskey." The landlady agreed. Murphy soon arrived and to him the appeal was made. After much examination and deliberation, he decided it to be a mouse, and the landlady paid the two.

The Stomach's Revenge.
Overload it with food, irritate it with fiery liquors, impair its activity or vitiate its juices by any outrage on the laws of health, and it revenges itself through the liver, the bowels, the kidneys, the head or the nervous system, and sometimes through all these organs simultaneously or in succession. There is scarcely any variety of bodily or mental pain or discomfort which it does not inflict upon those who abuse and overtax its powers. Under these circumstances there is but one medicine to which the sufferer can resort with certainty of immediate and permanent relief. The most wholesome and genial of all stomachics and correctives Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, produces an immediate and most beneficial change in the condition of the patient. The whole digestive system is at once invigorated and soothed, the liver regulated and toned, the bowels relieved of all obstructions, the spirits cheered, and the exhausted nerves strengthened and steadied.
